 Dialogue

Ugg boots are unisex boots that are made with sheepskin, tanned on the outer surface and has fleece on the inside of the boots, while the sole is synthetic. There is a dispute on the claim of the origin of the ugg boots, both Australia and New Zealand are claiming for the origin of the said footwear.

Here is the procedure in cleaning your ugg boots. First, brush your ugg boots to eliminate surface grime and dirt and avoid washing it with water as much as possible.

Second, apply suede cleaner. Mix water and leather cleaner, by following the procedure stated on the bottle of the cleaner. Then give the boots a thorough scrub.

Third, use newspaper to have the boot appear in a normal shape and avoid sagging. Fourth, allow the boots to sit in a cool and dry place for 24-48 hours until it is completely dry. Also we cannot dry the boots directly in the sun or in the dryer because the heat will cause the boots to stretch and wrinkle thus the leather will become damaged.
